The Branford Trail: Quarry - Westwoods

The 30-mile Branford Trail is a unique trail that borders a majority of the town's perimeter. The white circle blazed trail passes through the shoreline, wetlands, many town parks, northerly woodlands, and many Branford Land Trust properties. The trail is separated into eight sections that begins and ends at a public road with space for parking. Every home in Branford is within 15-minutes walking time of a trail. The entire Branford trail is best walked in a counter-clockwise direction.

Directions and Parking:
Take Stony Creek Road (Route 146) to Quarry Road to reach the Stony Creek Quarry Preserve. Parking is on Quarry Road at the start of the trail just after passing through the wetlands.

Permitted/Prohibited Activities:
This trail follows public and private roads. When adjacent to private property please respect resident's privacy. Dogs are permitted on leash. Please bag and pick up all dog waste.

Easy Hike to Moderate Hike
Quarrying of famous Stony Creek granite originated in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. The quarry has been in continuous operation since before the Civil War, and its Stony Creek panels formed the base of the Statue of Liberty, Grand Central Terminal in New York, the cladding for the Brooklyn Bridge, and South Station in Boston. In 1978, Stony Creek granite was chosen by architect Philip Johnson as the exterior veneer on the AT&T headquarters in New York, which led to the reemergence of the use of architectural granite.

Total trails length is approx. 3.3 miles
